

FCC, I urge you to consider the fact that your moves to restrain Satellite Radio from offering local content is only serving to prevent originality and better service. I understand that you are trying to foster local radio content, but in the South Eastern PA area all of the stations are already owned by large media conglomerates and offer nauseatingly similar and repetitive content. To be honest, I've heard concerts in the Reading area mentioned more on XM-Fungus than on local FM stations such as Y100. Their already-offered traffic and weather updates are also extremely useful and accurate. Please, do not give into the lobbying of these large station owners that simply clone content. Thank you.
